THERMO DIAGNOSTICS

Steam Testing, Troubleshooting, and Training Services

You rely on the steam system to deliver thermal energy that is clean, dry, and sterile... Sterilizers, autoclaves, and humidifiers are critical components in health care, institutional, and research facilities... but since they are open-ended steam users, poor steam quality (water in the line) can shut down your critical process.

Wet steam can have many sources.

The boilers may be working perfectly, but the system is not handling condensate and carryover properly. Certain conditions can create condensate at fifty times the normal rate. We are specialists at testing the system to detect these conditions... ..and show you the solution.

Facility Managers, CSSD Managers, Engineers, and Service Contractors can all benefit from our on-site steam audit service.

We have developed an exclusive systematic approach to looking at the steam system. We focus on RESOLUTION... Give us a wet steam problem, and we'll help you solve it.

Training

Quoting a Big Ten University Hospital we are: “great to work with, and did a great in house training for our tradesman and maintenance staff”.

We can teach classes in your facility (and soon online) to educate your staff on how the steam system works. We start with fundamentals, and "walk" the system from boiler to condensate pumps. CEU and PDH credits are available.

Independent, Confidential, Experienced

Our specialists average 25 years experience with steam in hospitals and life sciences. Give us a call!
